The Delphos Public Library will host the State Library of Ohio's Mobile Technology Training Center from July 30 through Aug. 5.

The Mobile Technology Training Center is a 35-foot bus equipped with 10 Networked PCs, a digital projector, a networked printer and wireless Internet through the library's router. The computer systems run Windows 7 Professional with Microsoft Office 2010.

All classes are free and taught in a casual, friendly, no-pressure environment.

Stop by or call the library for more information or to register. Space is limited to 10 individuals per class.

Call the library at 419-694-4015 for more details.
