At 3:28 p.m. on Saturday, Delphos Police were called to the 100 block of East Sixth Street in reference to a subject gaining entry into vehicles in that area.

Upon officers' arrival, they spoke with the witness who advised officers the direction the subject had fled in after gaining entry into a vehicle parked in that area.

After a search of the area, officers were unable to locate the subject but did find an item believed to have been taken from a vehicle in the area. The item was collected and entered into evidence for further processing by detectives.
